

The Pine and the Cherry: Japanese Americans in Washington

*How does a vigorous immigrant community face racist or religious opposition?
And what is our responsibility for building a just nation for all?*

humanities WASHINGTON

Resources for Presentation by Mayumi Tsutakawa

Sources:

- Densho Online Encyclopedia
<http://encyclopedia.densho.org/>
- “Turning Shadows into Light,”
Tanka poetry (Young Pine Press)
- “Executive Order 9066: 50 Years Before and 50 Years After,”
by David Takami
(Wing Luke Asian Museum)
- “No-No Boy,” by John Okada
(University of Washington Press)
- “Born in Seattle: The Campaign for Japanese American Redress,” by Robert Shimabukuro
(University of Washington Press)
- “George Tsutakawa,”
by Martha Kingsbury
(University of Washington Press)
- Music: Sakura, traditional
“In the Mood,” Glenn Miller
“My Home Country” (Patria
Madrina), Lila Downs, Juanes